Index to Volume 26

No. 1	Summer 2000
No. 2	Autumn 2000
No. 3	Winter 2000
No. 4	Spring 2001

AUTHORS

Bartl, Timothy J. Options, Incentives, and Salespeople: How the FLSA Discriminates Against Nonexempt Employees, No. 2, 57–88

Baumgarten, Elizabeth M., Sudbury, Deborah A., and Towns, Douglas M. Keeping the Monster in the Closet: Avoiding Employment Class Actions, No. 2, 5–33

Bauserman, Judy C., and Hamelburg, Mark E. It's Time for a Change—New Cafeteria Plan Election Rules, No. 2, 131–146

Bauserman, Judy C., and Kerby, Charles K., III. DOL Expands Audits of Health and Group Benefit Plans: What's an Employer To Do?, No. 1, 111–124

Broas, Julia, and Bromberg, Daniel H. Baby UI: The End of Unemployment Insurance As We Know It?, No. 2, 35–55

Bromberg, Daniel H., and Broas, Julia. Baby UI: The End of Unemployment Insurance As We Know It?, No. 2, 35–55

Burstein, James A., and Dugan, William F. Employers on the Offensive; Combating Improper Employee Use of Voice Mail and Electronic Mail Systems, No. 2, 89–99

Connell, Dana S., and Hogan, Margaret Parnell. An Employment Defense Lawyer's "Top 40" Litigation Cases, No. 1, 5–46

Dugan, William F., and Burstein, James A. Employers on the Offensive; Combating Improper Employee Use of Voice Mail and Electronic Mail Systems, No. 2, 89–99

Grossman, Neil M., and Kerby, Charles K., III. "Inferior" Health Benefits for Medicare-Eligible Retirees May Violate ADEA, No. 3, 143–148

Hamelburg, Mark E., and Bauserman, Judy C. It's Time for a Change—New Cafeteria Plan Election Rules, No. 2, 131–146

Hogan, Margaret Parnell, and Connell, Dana S. An Employment Defense Lawyer's "Top 40" Litigation Cases, No. 1, 5–46

Jenero, Kenneth A., and Schreiber, Phillip M. The Next Generation of ADA Claims: The "Regarded As" Prong of the Definition of Disability, No. 1, 99–109

Jenero, Kenneth A., and Schreiber, Phillip M. Weingarten Revisited: Nonunion Workers Also Have Right to Presence of Coworker During Investigatory Interviews, No. 3, 129–142

© 2001 Aspen Law & Business

Jordaan, Ashley W., and Webb, John R. The Growing Tension Between Rule 23 Class Actions and Hostile Environment Sexual Harassment Claims, No. 1, 63–87
Kandel, William L. After Reeves: Proving Pretext, Imprecision or Imperfection?, No. 3, 5–27
Kerby, Charles K., III, and Bauserman, Judy C. DOL Expands Audits of Health and Group Benefit Plans: What's an Employer To Do?, No. 1, 111–124
Kerby, Charles K., III, and Grossman, Neil M. "Inferior" Health Benefits for Medicare-Eligible Retirees May Violate ADEA, No. 3, 143–148
Ketay, Staci L., and Spognardi, Mark A. The Sting: "Testers" May Sue Under Title VII, Circuit Court Rules, No. 4, 127–140
Kilberg, William J. A Call for FLSA Reform, Again, No. 2, 1–4
Kilberg, William J. The Ninth Circuit and the ADA: Employers Beware, No. 4, 1–5
Kilberg, William J. Homework, No. 1, 1–4
Kilberg, William J. Three Supreme Court Decisions To Ponder, No. 3, 1–3
King, Nancy J. Is Paperless Hiring in Your Future?: E-Recruiting Gets Less Risky, No. 3, 87–116
McDonald, James J., Jr. The Equal Opportunity Jerk, No. 1, 89–98
McDonald, James J., Jr. I'm Disabled, You're Disabled, We're All Disabled Now, No. 4, 141–153
McDonald, Jr., James J. Failed Workplace Romances: If You're Lucky You'll Just Get Sued, No. 2, 101–111
McDonald, Jr., James J. Putting a Price on the Pain, No. 3, 117–127
McDougall, Heather L. Is the DOL Regulating Through the Back Door?: The Significance of Its Interpretative Letters, No. 1, 47–61
McDougall, Heather L. Proposed Expansion of NLRB Remedies: Labor Law Reform Without Legislation, No. 3, 73–85
Marshall, Alison B. Eleventh Circuit's Chapman Decision: Reiterating Deference to Employer's Reasonableness, No. 4, 155–161
Marshall, Alison B. Non-Competition Agreements: What Risks Do Employers Face?, No. 2, 113–121
Pace, Sarah E., and Winter, Richard R. Integrating the Employee's Responsibility To Report Harassment into Employment Law, No. 2, 123–130
Rahm, Richard H., and Siniscalco, Gary R. California Supreme Court Provides Guidance for Enforceable Arbitration Agreements, No. 4, 103–126
Sand, Robert H. OSHA Proposes Far-Reaching Ergonomics Regulations, No. 1, 125–130
Schreiber, Phillip M., and Jenero, Kenneth A. The Next Generation of ADA Claims: The "Regarded As" Prong of the Definition of Disability, No. 1, 99–109
Schreiber, Phillip M., and Jenero, Kenneth A. Weingarten Revisited: Nonunion Workers Also Have Right to Presence of Coworker During Investigatory Interviews, No. 3, 129–142

Siniscalco, Gary R., and Rahm, Richard H. California Supreme Court Provides Guidance for Enforceable Arbitration Agreements, No. 4, 103–126

Spognardi, Mark A., and Ketay, Staci L. The Sting: "Testers" May Sue Under Title VII, Circuit Court Rules, No. 4, 127–140

Starkman, Paul E. The ADA's "Essential Job Function" Requirements: Just How Essential Does an Essential Job Function Have To Be?, No. 4, 43–102

Sudbury, Deborah A., Towns, Douglas M., and Baumgarten, Elizabeth M. Keeping the Monster in the Closet: Avoiding Employment Class Actions, No. 2, 5–33

Towns, Douglas M., Baumgarten, Elizabeth M., and Sudbury, Deborah A. Keeping the Monster in the Closet: Avoiding Employment Class Actions, No. 2, 5–33

Webb, John R., and Jordaan, Ashley W. The Growing Tension Between Rule 23 Class Actions and Hostile Environment Sexual Harassment Claims, No. 1, 63–87

Winter, Richard R., and Pace, Sarah E. Integrating the Employee's Responsibility To Report Harassment into Employment Law, No. 2, 123–130

Winterbauer, Steven H. Reductions in Force: Reducing Staff Without Increasing Litigation, No. 3, 29–72

Wit, Adam C. M.B. Sturgis, Inc.: Upsetting the Balance of the Temporary Employment Relationship, No. 4, 7–42

AMERICANS WITH DISABILITIES ACT

The ADA's "Essential Job Function" Requirements: Just How Essential Does an Essential Job Function Have To Be?, Paul E. Starkman, No. 4, 43–102

ARBITRATION AGREEMENTS

California Supreme Court Provides Guidance for Enforceable Arbitration Agreements, Gary R. Siniscalco and Richard H. Rahm, No. 4, 103–126

CLASS ACTIONS

The Growing Tension Between Rule 23 Class Actions and Hostile Environment Sexual Harassment Claims, Ashley W. Jordaan and John R. Webb, No. 1, 63–87

Keeping the Monster in the Closet: Avoiding Employment Class Actions, Deborah A. Sudbury, Douglas M. Towns, and Elizabeth M. Baumgarten, No. 2, 5–33

DEPARTMENT OF LABOR

Is the DOL Regulating Through the Back Door?: The Significance of Its Interpretative Letters, Heather L. McDougall, No. 1, 47–61

DISCRIMINATION
The Sting: "Testers" May Sue Under Title VII, Circuit Court Rules, Mark A. Spognardi and Staci L. Ketay, No. 4, 127–140

E-RECRUITING
Is Paperless Hiring in Your Future?: E-Recruiting Gets Less Risky, Nancy J. King, No. 3, 87–116

ELECTRONIC MAIL
Employers on the Offensive; Combating Improper Employee Use of Voice Mail and Electronic Mail Systems, James A. Burstein and William F. Dugan, No. 2, 89–99

EMPLOYEE BENEFITS
"Inferior" Health Benefits for Medicare-Eligible Retirees May Violate ADEA, Charles K. Kerby, III and Neil M. Grossman, No. 3, 143–148
DOL Expands Audits of Health and Group Benefit Plans: What's an Employer To Do?, Charles K. Kerby, III and Judy C. Bauserman, No. 1, 111–124
It's Time for a Change—New Cafeteria Plan Election Rules, Mark E. Hamelburg and Judy C. Bauserman, No. 2, 131–146

EMPLOYMENT DISCRIMINATION CLAIMS
After Reeves: Proving Pretext, Imprecision or Imperfection?, William L. Kandel, No. 3, 5–27

EMPLOYMENT LITIGATION
Eleventh Circuit's Chapman Decision: Reiterating Deference to Employer's Reasonableness, Alison B. Marshall, No. 4, 155–161
Non-Competition Agreements: What Risks Do Employers Face?, Alison B. Marshall, No. 2, 113–121

EMPLOYMENT TESTERS
The Sting: "Testers" May Sue Under Title VII, Circuit Court Rules, Mark A. Spognardi and Staci L. Ketay, No. 4, 127–140

ESSENTIAL JOB FUNCTION
The ADA's "Essential Job Function" Requirements: Just How Essential Does an Essential Job Function Have To Be?, Paul E. Starkman, No. 4, 43–102

FAIR LABOR STANDARDS ACT
Options, Incentives, and Salespeople: How the FLSA Discriminates Against Nonexempt Employees, Timothy J. Bartl, No. 2, 57–88

FROM THE EDITOR

A Call for FLSA Reform, Again, William J. Kilberg, No. 2, 1–4

The Ninth Circuit and the ADA: Employers Beware, William J. Kilberg, No. 4, 1–5

Homework, William J. Kilberg, No. 1, 1–4

Three Supreme Court Decisions To Ponder, William J. Kilberg, No. 3, 1–3

HIRING PRACTICES

Is Paperless Hiring in Your Future?: E-Recruiting Gets Less Risky, Nancy J. King, No. 3, 87–116

HOSTILE ENVIRONMENT

The Growing Tension Between Rule 23 Class Actions and Hostile Environ ment Sexual Harassment Claims, Ashley W. Jordaan and John R. Webb, No. 1, 63–87

INTERNET

Is Paperless Hiring in Your Future?: E-Recruiting Gets Less Risky, Nancy J. King, No. 3, 87–116

LABOR AND EMPLOYEE RELATIONS

The Next Generation of ADA Claims: The "Regarded As" Prong of the Definition of Disability, Kenneth A. Jenero and Phillip M. Schreiber, No. 1, 99–109

Integrating the Employee's Responsibility To Report Harassment into Employment Law, Richard R. Winter and Sarah E. Pace, No. 2, 123–130

Weingarten Revisited: Nonunion Workers Also Have Right to Presence of Coworker During Investigatory Interviews, Kenneth A. Jenero and Phillip M. Schreiber, No. 3, 129–142

LEX MENTIS

The Equal Opportunity Jerk, James J. McDonald, Jr., No. 1, 89–98

Failed Workplace Romances: If You're Lucky You'll Just Get Sued, James J. McDonald, Jr., No. 2, 101–111

I'm Disabled, You're Disabled, We're All Disabled Now, James J. McDonald, Jr., No. 4, 141–153

Putting a Price on the Pain, James J. McDonald, Jr., No. 3, 117–127

LITIGATION

An Employment Defense Lawyer's "Top 40" Litigation Cases, Dana S. Connell and Margaret Parnell Hogan, No. 1, 5–46

NATIONAL LABOR RELATIONS BOARD

Proposed Expansion of NLRB Remedies: Labor Law Reform Without Legislation, Heather L. McDougall, No. 3, 73–85

PRETEXT ARGUMENT
After Reeves: Proving Pretext, Imprecision or Imperfection?, William L. Kandel, No. 3, 5–27

REDUCTION IN FORCE
Reductions in Force: Reducing Staff Without Increasing Litigation, Steven H. Winterbauer, No. 3, 29–72

SAFETY AND HEALTH
OSHA Proposes Far-Reaching Ergonomics Regulations, Robert H. Sand, No. 1, 125–130

SEXUAL HARASSMENT
The Growing Tension Between Rule 23 Class Actions and Hostile Environment Sexual Harassment Claims, Ashley W. Jordaan and John R. Webb, No. 1, 63–87

TEMPORARY EMPLOYMENT
M.B. Sturgis, Inc.: Upsetting the Balance of the Temporary Employment Relationship, Adam C. Wit, No. 4, 7–42

UNEMPLOYMENT INSURANCE
Baby UI: The End of Unemployment Insurance As We Know It?, Daniel H. Bromberg and Julia Broas, No. 2, 35–55

VOICE MAIL
Employers on the Offensive; Combating Improper Employee Use of Voice Mail and Electronic Mail Systems, James A. Burstein and William F. Dugan, No. 2, 89–99